To whom it may concern,

I am requesting an exception to allow me to put a small transparent front fence (wrought iron) on my property.

My townhome currently has a small side yard with a walkway and hedges that extend and curve slightly (less than 10 feet) beyond the front of the house. I have a two-year-old daughter and would like to make the side yard a place she can play in and put in a swing set; however, I fear she may run into the street and would like to install a fence for safety.

If we had to comply and place a fence up to the front of the house instead of slightly in front of it, this would limit the space my daughter would have to run around significantly, and that is why I am seeking this exception.

The extension we are requesting is modest in size and would still leave ~20 feet of room between the fence and the road (as you can see from the rendered image). So, we do not believe it would be an eyesore.

Please consider this small exception. Again, all we are trying to accomplish is to create a small but safe space for my daughter to play in.

Thank you!

-Will Karbaum
